Rail Road Company," under which we have been operating the said Rail Road, having been fully complied with, satisfied and discharged, we have, in accordance with the law and the provisions of the said Trust Deed, this day, in all things surrendered our possession, management and control of the said Rail Road, and all of its property and rights, to the Board of Directors of the said "The Rio Grande Rail Road Company," and from thence forth cease to be such said Trustees:—

To mention the big things of the World's Fair of 1904 would be to give a catalogue of the greatest achievements of man in many lines of endeavor. For example: We shall see the largest locomotive ever built, weighing ninety-five tons and having twelve driving wheels. We shall hear the largest organ in the world in the most beautiful festival hall ever built. We shall see some of the greatest sea-coast defense guns manufactured for the United States government. In the Government Building, which is the largest exhibit building ever erected by federal authority at an Exposition, there will be a model of a half of a battleship for the Navy display. The United States Government has also erected a bird cage so large that tall trees grow within the inclosure, in which will be held captive during the companion at the seashore, river or country excursions and the race course. The above has achromatic lenses, leather covered bodies, fitting in flexible leather case; the latest. Sent registered by mail free on receipt of $3.00; worth $10.00.

Just why any man should go around with a 200 horse power frown on his face down here in old East Texas is past all understanding. By actual count right here in Anderson county there are 386 flowers to every thorn, 276 days of sunshine—and the prettiest, warmest, balmyest sunshine on earth—to every scrap of cloud, and 294 reasons for being happy to every one suspicious reason for being unhappy.

Some complaints are heard regarding the obscurity which reigns at the corner of 4th. and Elizabeth streets, no lamp being located on that corner. It is suggested that the city should remedy the matter by providing a lamp for that locality.

tude, and an amusement street a mile long, containing the most novel and wonderful entertainments, will furnish diversion to the guests of the Exposition.

All St. Louis is preparing for the World's Fair, which will open on April 30 next and continue for seven months. Hundreds of buildings have been remodeled into hotels, and thousands of homes have been listed upon invitation of the World's Fair management, to help care for the visitors. Every preparation has been made for a period of unusual festivity, and St. Louis expects to give her visitors a delightful season of sight-seeing and entertainment.

Thirty-five miles of roadway have been constructed within the World's Fair grounds.

Fire in the attic of the general office building early last evening, did slight damage. The fire company rendered quick and efficient work.

Between 5 and 6 o'clock yesterday afternoon a false alarm was turned in from Wainwright's mill. Mr. Wainwright says he does not know who sent in the alarm, or why it was sent in.

Took His Coffin to Europe With Him.

Among the passengers who sailed for Europe on the Hamburg-American steamer Pennsylvania recently was Max Giblin of Indianapolis, better known in Indianapolis and Texas as Texas Jack and Cheap John. Says the Indianapolis Sentinel, Giblin, according to his statement, began his fifty-ninth trip to Europe and, notwithstanding that he looked hale and hearty, took

Here he manifested to the highest degree the brilliance of intellect with which nature had endowed him, winning a national reputation for his splendid qualities as a statesman and his rare abilities as an orator. So great was his eloquence, so wide his command of language, and so beautifully expressed the thoughts
